JDCAP is hosting a 4.5-day Training for Trainers designed to introduce 10 NPJS training curricula while also focusing upon ensuring trainer's consistency of instructional techniques and enhancing their quality of instruction.

Each trainer will be provided with a flash drive with the lesson plans, participant handouts, power point and video resources.

We are requesting that each participant bring their own laptop to access the most up to date information and available links.

The modules are uniquely designed for today's learning environments. They can be taught in a classroom setting using a hard copy lesson plan and PowerPoint or as e-learning modules that are completed by individual staff with the support of a designated supervisor/mentor. Both the classroom and e-learning modules are accompanied by Participant Guides and incorporate NPJS Speaks video presentations from subject matter experts on the topic. E-learning materials designed to include a Supervisor/Mentor Guide are pending.

Attendee Comments from Training for Trainers:

- Trainers were very clear on their message; each day remained interesting and entertaining; camaraderie, lessons, safety – epic!
- It was very interactive with homework at night (working on presentations to be made to the group on the following day). The trainers, Rick and Pam were excellent communicators and effective facilitators. They provided a safe and comfortable environment for the attendees to speak in front of the group. The guys said they learned a lot and the info was very useful and congruent with our work.
- The camaraderie and comfort amongst the group and facilitators that allowed for personal growth
- Trainers pushed us all and demonstrated (not just “taught”) the techniques that need to be utilized/facilitated; also pushing the learning technique/cycle on us continually it makes sense now! Bringing back the ability to recognize how to better relate to everyone’s learning style will be invaluable – it answers some questions on 1) getting through to more staff and 2) a better way of creating lesson plans in the future.
- Would love to come back/bring other staff to partake in the training; would benefit anyone in the corrections field; amazing time!
- They were the most effective trainers that I’ve encountered.
- Best training presentation that I have encountered in 25 years. A-1
- Keep up the great work! Would like to be a part of more of their training.
- Excellent trainers; they are extremely knowledgeable and professional.
- This was by far the most beneficial training and the trainers are to thank for that.
- Trainers were exceptional
- Trainers were amazing. I have a lot of work to do to build my skills to your levels, but they did an outstanding job of validating each person in the room along the way.
